Property Description

Perched at one of the highest points of Finca Los Pargos, Casa Los Roques is a private architectural sanctuary celebrating light, landscape, and the raw beauty of Costa Rica. Oriented west, the home captures uninterrupted Pacific Ocean and sunset views, with howler monkeys and tropical birds as your daily soundtrack. Lush landscaping includes fruit trees, butterflies, hummingbirds, and two fragrant Ylang Ylang trees. Designed by renowned architect Juan Ignacio Aranguren—a longtime collaborator of Zaha Hadid—the residence blends fluid forms, coralina stone, local wood, and dramatic glazing into a seamless indoor-outdoor living experience. A curated arrival leads to a fully glazed central living area with floor-to-ceiling openings framing the infinity-edge pool, tropical dry forest, and endless horizon. The open living room and wooden kitchen face the ocean, with a custom pochote sliding door for flexibility without sacrificing views.
