Property Description

This stunning 8-acre property, nestled in the hills above Hojancha, presents an ideal opportunity to create your personalized green retreat. The gently sloping land features a harmonious blend of forest and pasture, bordering a sparkling mountain stream that flows year-round. From this vantage point, enjoy panoramic views of the Montealto Natural Reserve, an untouched sanctuary with well-maintained hiking trails. Created by local residents to protect the upper watershed of the Rio Nosara, source of water for nearby farms and the town, this reserve is a hidden gem. Just half a mile down the road, discover the charming waterfall and swimming hole that gave the small community of Pilangosta its name ("narrow pool"). The property includes a rustic yet solidly-built two-bedroom cabin, offering a cozy retreat. There is ample space and scenic sites to build a larger home or additional cabins, each offering privacy and stunning views.
